

Googolplex Written Out

Wolfgang H. Nitsche

A stylized graphic of a vinyl record. The text "volume 1000" is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font at the top. In the center of the record, the numbers "6789" are arranged in a circular pattern, following the curve of the record's grooves. The record itself is represented by a series of concentric, slightly irregular black lines forming a spiral pattern.

Stanford University

A large, stylized number 6 is formed by a dense arrangement of small, rounded, pill-like shapes. The number is oriented vertically, with the top of the 6 at the bottom of the frame. Above the number, the text "volume 1000" is written in a simple, sans-serif font. The entire graphic is set against a plain white background.

In 1940, the mathematician Edward Kasner published the book "Mathematics and the Imagination", in which he popularized the words googol and googolplex which his nephew suggested as names for big numbers.
