Googolplex Written Out

Stanford University

A circular graphic with the text "volume 1000" at the top and "357263" at the bottom, both written in a stylized, rounded font. The text is arranged in a circular path, following the curve of the circle. The font is a bold, sans-serif style with rounded terminals. The background is white, and the text is black.

In 1940, the mathematician Edward Kasner published the book "Mathematics and the Imagination", in which he popularized the words googol and googolplex which his nephew suggested as names for big numbers.
