A graphic consisting of three concentric rings of digits forming a spiral-like pattern. The outermost ring is composed of the digit '9'. The middle ring is composed of the digit '6'. The innermost ring is composed of the digit '8'. In the center of these rings, the digit '1' is placed vertically.

In 1940, the mathematician Edward Kasner published the book "Mathematics and the Imagination", in which he popularized the words googol and googolplex which his nephew suggested as names for big numbers.
