

Googolplex Written Out

Wolfgang H. Nitsche

A graphic featuring a spiral pattern. The spiral is composed of the digits '9' and '6' arranged in a continuous, winding line that starts from the center and moves outwards. The word 'volume' is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font at the top left of the image.

Googolplex Written Out

Wolfgang H. Nitsche

Stanford University

volume 999999999

A large spiral made of the digits 9 and 6, starting from the center and winding outwards.

In 1940, the mathematician Edward Kasner published the book "Mathematics and the Imagination", in which he popularized the words googol and googolplex which his nephew suggested as names for big numbers.
